

Save the Date!

August 11-12, 2010

2010 Stiltgrass Summit

The River to River Cooperative Weed Management Area is hosting a research and management summit on the invasive Japanese stiltgrass (Microstegium vimineum) on August 11-12, 2010 at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, Illinois. Japanese stiltgrass, also called Nepalese browntop or Eulalia, is an aggressive invader of forested habitats in the eastern United States. This summit will discuss recent research and management techniques and will feature presentations, panel discussions, field trips, and poster sessions.

Check www.rtrcwma.org/stiltgrass for conference updates!

RIVER TO RIVER
Cooperative Weed Management Area

Southern Illinois University
Carbondale

ILLINOIS
DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

